8 MILLION TEAPOT DEAL IN CANADA

TRIAL BARES NEW ANGLE IN NOW
FAMOUS CASE

CANADIAN CORPORATION
TAKES $8,000,000 RAKEOFF

Continental Trading Company Formed to Manipulate Texas Oil Lands, Is Alleged—Sinclair's Hand in Deal, Alleged.

Toronto.—Eight million three hundred and thirty-three thousand, three hundred and thirty-three dollars, taken by a Canadian corporation, called by a justice of the Ontario supreme court "a fake concern," has taken a commanding place in the famous Teapot Dome oil case.

The justice's decision requires Henry Smith Osler, king's counsel, to tell representatives of the United States government how Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, got $90,000 of Liberty bonds as a stock dividend from the company.

This government charges that Fall deposited these bonds in three banks after the Canadian company, alleged to have been formed for the purpose of skimming the cream from profits on the Mexico and Powell oil fields in Texas, had performed its office.

Sinclair had previously testified that he loaned Fall $25,000 in Liberty bonds. The effect of the new discovery and court ruling on it, it is said, would be to delay the Teapot Dome trial scheduled to begin at Cheyenne, January 6, until more light could come from the Canadian deal.

It is charged in the case in Canada, it is said, that Sinclair and his associates got Osler to form the Canadian company to take a contract for buying 33,333,333 barrels of oil from the Texas companies at $1.50 a barrel, then resell before delivery for $1.75 a barrel, squeezing 25 cents a barrel of "fat" from the deal, of which the Fall donation is said to have been a part.

Incidentally, the justice delivered an opinion shattering a time-old claim of lawyers to the privilege of silence as to matters of their clients. The court ruled that such privilege only extended to matters told them in confidence by clients and not to things learned in deals in which the lawyers themselves were parties.

EUROPE LOANED BILLION
IN 1924 BY U. S. BANKERS

Washington.—The magnitude of American financial operations abroad was revealed when the federal reserve board announced that foreign countries borrowed $1,100,000,000 from American bankers during the first eleven months of 1924. This places American peace-time investments abroad at approximately $10,000,000,000. New capital issues are three times as great as in 1923 and substantially greater than during any year since the war, according to the board. A part of the loans extended to foreign countries was for the stabilization of exchange on monetary reforms, the federal reserve board declared, and also pointed out that a great portion of the money borrowed in the United States has been used to purchase goods in this country for export abroad.

COLONEL BARROWS WILL HEAD
SEVENTY-NINTH BRIGADE

Sacramento.—Colonel David P. Barrows, former president of the University of California, will be appointed brigadier general commanding the Seventy-ninth brigade, California national guard, to succeed Brigadier general J. J. Borree, who has tendered his resignation, effective immediately, it was announced here by Adjutant General R. E. Mittelstaedt.

Barrows undertook a special military investigation in Siberia during the world war, and years ago established the school system in the Philippines. Borree is a former adjutant general and a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

Tries to Kill Ambassador

Paris.—Mrs. Marie Dickson, formerly of New York, was arrested by French political police before the Russian embassy as she was waiting to assassinate Leonid Krassin, the soviet ambassador to Paris. When the woman was examined by a magistrate, the police were formed to admit her detention. Mrs. Dickson was born in Russia. She said under examination that she had intended to kill Krassin as soon as she saw him leave the building.

ILLNESS FATAL TO LABOR PRESIDENT

SAMUEL GOMPERS SUCCEUMS TO PNEUMONIC ATTACK

AMERICAN LABOR HEAD
DIES AT SAN ANTONIO

Was Connected With Almost Every Labor Dispute in This Country for Over Thirty Years—Instrumental in Labor Improvement.

San Antonio.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, died at 4:10 o'clock Saturday morning. The end came suddenly, for while his condition was understood to be grave the crisis was not believed to have been so close at hand. He arrived from Mexico City in a special car about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, having taken seriously ill in the Mexican capital early in the week. Greeted by hundreds of union men, he was taken to the hotel on a stretcher, in an ambulance, his progress to the hotel taking on the appearance of a procession because of the great number of automobiles and pedestrians following the stricken labor leader.

Samuel Gompers, "dean of American labor leaders," one of the founders of the American Federation of Labor, which he saw grow from a coterie of small locals to a national organization, with a membership of more than 3,000,000, spent several years of the later years of his life fighting autocracy abroad and radicalism in organized labor at home. He was 73 years old. In a career filled with persistent and vigorous efforts from his fifteenth year "to improve the conditions of workers," Gompers became a unique figure in American public life. By the force of his eloquence and patriotism he won over the solid support of the American Federation of Labor for the United States government when it entered the war. He went to Paris, where he helped organize the International Labor Congress. Five of the tenets were incorporated in the peace treaty. They were: 1—Labor is not a commodity. 2—An international 8-hour day. 3—A standard and adequate living wage. 4—Equal pay for men and women for equal work. 5—Prohibition of child labor. Outspoken in his views on public questions, Gompers made many bitter critics, as well as staunch supporters. He charged German labor with having helped precipitate the world struggle, blamed prohibition for causing "unrest" in the United States, urged a labor union of the two Americas, denounced a United States senatorial investigation of Mexico as "Prussianism," supported De Valera and "recognized" the Irish Republic, assailed the open shop platform of the United States chamber of commerce, demanded that Asiatics be kept out of the United States, pleaded for the release of all political and wartime prisoners, including Eugene V. Debs, opposed the establishment by the Washington administration of a department of welfare, praised President Harding's world disarmament efforts and approved America's plan to aid famine-stricken Russia. Before the United States entered the world conflict, he combated enemy influences active among the nation's workers, and, by refusing to send delegates to peace conferences in Sweden and Switzerland, kept American labor free from entangling negotiations with pacifist organizations in countries which later became enemies of the United States. Three days after the United States declared war on Germany, he announced, for the federation, "full and unqualified support of the government" on the part of America's workers. In midsummer of 1917, Gompers formed and headed the American Alliance for Labor Democracy, which marshaled the labor forces of the country for active support of the government in the war. Gompers was intimately connected with every labor dispute in this country for thirty years, and headed the labor forces in numerous strikes.

Incidentally, the justice delivered an opinion shattering a time-old claim of lawyers to the privilege of silence as to matters of their clients. The court ruled that such privilege only extended to matters told them in confidence by clients and not to things learned in deals in which the lawyers themselves were parties.

THEATRE RE-OPENS CHRISTMAS DAY

Theatre goers will welcome the good news that the Orchard City Theatre is to reopen. Mr. Andrew Saso, the new manager, has been in San Francisco booking a list of exceptionally good productions of Paramount pictures. He also purchased a Wuritzer motor blower organ which will be installed to give patrons better music in keeping with the plays.

Campbell is well able to support a good movie house and Mr. Saso assures his patrons the very best to be had for the money. This will afford amusement and entertainment to the entire community and is deserving of a liberal patronage.

Mr. Saso, son of M. Saso, of Infirmary Road, has had considerable experience in the silver sheet business, having spent several years in Portland, Oregon. When he left there he was assistant manager of the Columbia and had been previously connected with the Blue Mouse and People's theatres for some time.

After these years away he is more than pleased to be back in "sunny California" to enjoy the home folks.

His first picture will be "Sinners in Heaven" starring Bebe Daniels and Richard Dix, to be shown here Christmas afternoon and evening.

It should be remembered that only by a substantial patronage can the better plays be secured and the theatre kept running.

CANTATA BY PUGH CHURCH CHOIR

The choir of the First Presbyterian church, of San Jose, under the direction of Mr. Homer De Witt Pugh, will render a beautiful cantata, "The Story of Bethlehem," Sunday evening.

The work is very modern and deals with the birth of Christ, taken in three parts and a prologue. The singing of the cantata will be preceded by the candle light procession which is part of each year's Christmas service.

CONGRESS SUBJECT AT CLUB SESSION

The two houses in Congress and noted congressmen were the subjects for discussion at Monday's meeting of the Country Woman's Club, with Miss Jessie Lewis, Mrs. C. H. Whitman and Mrs. Effie Hubbell as the program committee.

Mrs. Hubbell gave a very interesting report on the Senate and House, the election of members, their duties and powers. She enumerated the powers which the senate has exclusively and the only one of the House, the origination of all bills providing revenue. The various committees of importance were mentioned, and the work of "The Big Four"—Committee on "Ways and Means," "Appropriations," "Interstate and Foreign Commerce" and "Post Office and Post Roads."

Miss Lewis read for Mrs. Whitman a number of anecdotes concerning some of the congressmen, and a fine "Tribute to Henry Cabot Lodge."

For herself, Miss Lewis had chosen a number of the prominent members of both houses during and shortly after the Civil War, among them were Stephen A. Douglas, Charles Sumner and Alexander Hamilton Stevens.

As it was the last meeting prior to Christmas, a bit of the Christmas spirit was introduced by the reading of quotations relative to Yule tide, and Miss Lewis read two Christmas poems written by Edmund Vance Cooke.

The president requested that each member come prepared at the January 19 meeting to mention some achievement of our country by one of its noted men, as the invention of the cotton gin by Eli Whitney, the steamboat by Fulton, etc.

CLUBS CONSOLIDATE

Campbell Merchants' association held its final meeting at the club room and voted to affiliate with the Chamber of Commerce as a merchants' department is being planned for that organization. This new arrangement will no doubt work out for a more unified effort for the common good of the town and community and the same varied interests be served. By this plan a new interest and vigor is expected to develop in the Chamber. Let's all get behind the organization.

Burglar Rates Up

An article which appeared in one of the recent city papers is very apropos of the situation in Campbell. Whenever the matter of incorporation is mentioned the tax bugaboo is brought up and enlarged upon, but we cannot have anything that we do not pay for, and certainly some provision for law enforcement and the policing of our town should be made.

This article is in reference to the great increases in rates in California for burglary insurance because of the severe losses the companies have had to meet. This increase must be passed on to the Ultimate Consumer.

Quoting from this same article: "It would be a great deal better to put down burglars—to spend the extra money on additional police or private guards, to cut down the property loss and to leave the insurance concerns out of it altogether. But that would increase taxes, and taxes are one thing we all hate to pay. We would notice the higher taxes for police protection, and we won't notice the higher prices for burglary insurance—which is just another proof that our imaginations are deficient. Taxes paid for better police protection are taxes well expended, and the politician who tells you otherwise is merely trading on your prejudice against the tax-collector."

Of course, we all lead rather uneventful lives, and it may be that some people rather fancy the thrill of being burgled from time to time, but what about the rest of us?

CAMPBELL PLAYS SAN JOSE TONIGHT

Friday afternoon the Campbell unlimited suffered defeat at the hands of the Santa Clara unlimited. The score was 18-17. The Campbell thirties easily made this up by trouncing the Santa Clara thirties. The score for this game was 27-20.

The starting line-up for the thirties was, center, Monte, Forwards, Kalas Hummel; guards, Pizano and Nishita. In the first half Campbell was outplayed by Santa Clara for the simple reason that Campbell "didn't get going." The score at the end of the first half was Santa Clara 17, Campbell 10. Campbell went back in the second half with the idea that they were going to toss the ball through the bucket so many times that Santa Clara would get dizzy. And they did! Kalas and Hummel both flipped a few over the heads of the Santa Clara guards.

The unlimited played their poorest game of the season. Perhaps they were dreaming of what they are going to do to San Jose this evening. If they were, their dreams are all coming true. At 8 o'clock in the Campbell Gymnasium, tonight, December 19, the two teams will clash, and poor San Jose—well, at any rate, we know who we're feeling sorry for. No one will want to miss this game as it is the biggest of the season. Remember the game last year when two extra periods had to be added? These two teams are the fastest and hardest of the league so you can be sure of a good game.

The line-up for Campbell are: Thirties, Center, Monte, Hede-gard; forwards, Kalas, Hummel, Reed; guards, Nishita, Pizano and Cramer. The unlimited, forwards, Clark, Bonaccorso, Steindorf, Duncan, M. Nelson; center, R. Robinson; guards, Shelley, Reed and Sandquist.

Indianapolis.—Education should be divided into two classes, professional and non-professional, in the opinion voiced by school men from thirty-eight states attending the eighteenth annual convention of the National Society of Vocational Education here. The modern high school is a failure because it specializes on the training of about one-third who expect to go still higher in educational work, with the remaining two-thirds neglected, declared Dr. David Snedden, director of vocational education at Columbia.

"SINNERS IN HEAVEN"
Featuring Richard Dix and Bebe Daniels
Can forces of tradition and convention keep apart for long a man and woman thrown together on a tropical island with no apparent hope of rescue? Above idyll so passionate and tender that it requires no justification save its own supreme fitness.

"FEET OF CLAY"
A Cecil B. DeMille Production.
With Rod LaRoque, Vera Reynolds, Ricardo Cortez and Julia Faye. A story of a girl tempted and untarnished. Produced with all the DeMille lavishness of gowns, women and settings.

"OPEN ALL NIGHT"
A brilliant, sophisticated, Parisian society comedy, featuring Adolphe Menjou and others.

Gloria Swanson in "HER LOVE STORY"
An Allan Dwan Production
Based on "The Queen's Love Story" by Mary Roberts Rinehart. You will love Gloria more than ever after witnessing this picture.

Betty Compson in "THE FEMALE"
From the Cynthia Stockley story, "Dalla, the Lion Cub." The awakening of a woman's soul. It combines thrills, drama, plotting and a different sort of triangular love story.

"THE FAST SET"
From the great stage success by Frederick Lonsdale, "Spring Cleaning." A wife starved for romance with a matter-of-fact husband, becomes easy prey for a fascinating bachelor.

Bebe Daniels in "DANGEROUS MONEY"
A fascinating story of a girl that becomes an heiress over night and the trials and worries which her money causes her.

Pola Negri in "FORBIDDEN PARADISE"
The world's greatest passion-actress has come into her own. Here is a Pola Negri displaying all the fire and seductiveness that has made her famous; a Negri lavishly gowned and splendidly supported in a sensational story of society romance and intrigue.

"THE STORY WITHOUT A NAME"
Featuring Agnes Ayres and Antonio Moreno. One of the most exciting and thrill producing pictures you could possibly see, and through it all is a beautiful love theme. It is a picture you must see.

"MERTON OF THE MOVIES"
Starring Glenn Hunter. Not an expose of movies, but a story of love, suffering and ambition that could happen in your own home town.

Bebe Daniels in "LITTLE MISS BLUEBEARD"
The story of a girl who suddenly found she had one husband too many. A charming love-comedy, ideally suited to Miss Daniels.

Thomas Meighan in "COMING THROUGH"
An original photoplay written especially for Mr. Meighan by Booth Tarkington. The story of a man who fights his way back to respectability over tremendous obstacles.

"WORLDLY GOODS"
Featuring Agnes Ayres and Pat O'Malley. What happens when a keen-minded young business woman, used to independence, marries a romantic weakling in a moment of passion and tries to settle down. What happens when her real mate comes along? When you see this picture, it will tell you.

Rudolph Valentino in "A SAINTED DEVIL"
In which he makes women his playthings. Cynical and bitter through a misunderstanding, he makes women pay and pay, only in the end to learn the truth and a happy reunion is affected.

Richard Dix in "A MAN MUST LIVE"
Adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story, "Contraband" by Clarence Budington Kelland. A story in which Mr. Dix portrays the role of a man that suddenly realizes that life is but a jungle where every animal keeps alive by frightening and killing the other animals.

"ARGENTINE LOVE"
An Alan Crosland Production
Featuring Bebe Daniels and Ricardo Cortez. A hot-blooded Spanish romance of love, action and revenge.

"THE CITY THAT NEVER SLEEPS"
A James Cruze Production
The tale of a mother who, herself the mistress of a roaring night-life cafe, has placed her pretty daughter with a rich family to be brought up respectably. When the daughter starts hitting the pace that kills, when the butterfly faces her moral crisis in her own mother's cafe, the mother takes a hand. Thrills and heart-throbs such as you have never seen.

Betty Compson in "THE GARDEN OF WEEDS"
A story of a woman who tries to conceal her past and is intensely unhappy over it, and when she is threatened with exposure, turns the table on her enemy.

Zane Grey's "THE BORDER LEGION"
With Antonio Moreno and Helene Chadwick. A stirring tale of the Golden West.

"NORTH OF 36"
Written by Emerson Hough, who is the author of "The Covered Wagon." Featuring Jack Holt, Lois Wilson, Noah Beery and Ernest Torrence. An epoch picture of Texas when the first cattle were driven over miles of prairie, through dangerous Indian country and finally were successful in reaching Abilene, Kansas.

Thomas Meighan in "TONGUES OF FLAME"
The last novel of Peter Clark McFarlane. Here is a real story! A love story, a thrill story, a story of punch and pathos in which Mr. Meighan further endears himself to you.

Richard Dix in "MANHATTAN"
The story of a wealthy young man who comes to the realization that living without an object in life is decidedly not worth while. He determines to find a definite object, an object to work for, live for and be worthy of, and in seeking it, he runs into some very thrilling experiences.

Agnes Ayres in "TOMORROW'S LOVE"
A flaming expose showing the sham of the modern feminine craze for freedom. A thrilling action story proving convention is in reality a cage—not a prison.

Pola Negri in "EAST OF SUEZ"
A mystery drama of China in which the fate of a girl is decided between three white men, a sinister Chinese nobleman and an old Chinese woman in whose brain lies the key to the mystery.

Betty Compson in "LOCKED DOORS"
A William deMille production.
A highly dramatic story of the love of two young people who meet at a mountain trout stream but do not know each other's identity. She is married to an elderly architect, while he is a friend and employee of the man whose wife he is making love to. When the young people finally discover their relationships and try to suppress their love, it carries them into a vortex of conflicting currents.

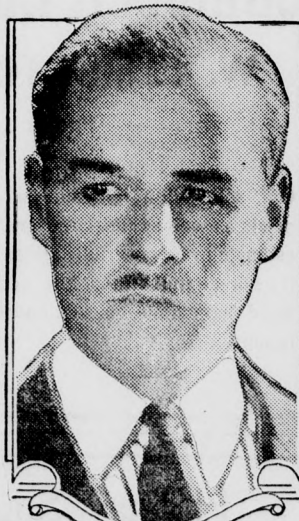

PETER PAN
From Sir James M. Barrie's immortal play, featuring Betty Bronson. Not a child in America should miss "Peter Pan" and mother and daddy must come along too. It is the sweetest and most lovable picture of them all and one in which we re-live our youth.
